The question of Stack's status on the payroll was brought to the council's at-tention by Alderman Warren Decatur who said he had been told that Stack's salary tenuou by received that Stack's salary said he had been told that Stack's salary said he had been to the entitlement periods 6 and 7 appropriations of the revenue sharing budget, with Stack designated as assistant superintendent of streets.

"Is this right? Do we have an assistant street superintendent or don't we?"

Stack was appointed assistant city street superintendent in February 1976 after the council enacted an ordinance creating the office.

Stack was appointed assistant city street superintendent in February 1976 after the council enacted an ordinance creating the office.

Marchael Card Parniny of the Sitch Ward said the assistant superintendent's poet was created by ordinance and that the council never has rescinded nor amended that ordinanct. Parning said. "The council created by ordinance and that the council never has rescinded nor amended that ordinanct." Parning said. Several aldermen suggested the matter should be resolved, but it was noted by several of them that moving Stacks into the sanitation department would pose a problem because Stack's salary, which totals $17,160 in the revenue sharing budget, would be greater than that of City to the sanitation department. Budget would be greater than that of City and the sanitation of the department. Douglas described the problem as "ridiculous," noting, "If the man is named assistant street superintendent, he should be working in the street department. It's obvious that the street superintendent, is not abdding by the council's wishes," Mayor Schuler replied.

Alderman Sam Whitmer, who also said he believed Stack should be reassigned, asked City Alforney Lance Callis to the sanitation department.

The new operating budget was placed on first reading in the July 18 council session, but minor changes were made before it only and the reassing state of the assistant street superintendents of fice and, at the same time, transfer Stack to the sanitation department.

In Memoriam 33

In loving memory of PAUL VINCENT HOGUE July 21, 1976 His smiling face and pleasant voice

Are a pleasure to recall;
He had a kindly word of each
And died beloved by all.
Some day we hope to meet him,
Some day, we know not when—
To clasp his hand in the better land

Beyond the years the soul shall find

The endless peace for which it pined,
For light appears,
And to the eyes that once were blind

Their sight shall come all unconfined,
Beyond the years.

Our son has been dead one year
We veept and cried when we learned our son had died.
They say time heals all sorrow and helps to forget.
But time has only proved how
but time has only proved how LI had all the world to give, I'd give it all just
To hear him say "Hi Mom" as he walks through my door.

Trigger price system isn't working so far; Uncle Sam should directly enforce the anti-dumping steel import law

SNOULD UIFECTLY STITIOTCE THE AT National Steel Corporation's second-quarter financial report released this week shows no visible benefit from the federal government's trigger price system created to curb below-cost "dumping" of steel in the U. S. by Japan or other nations. Chairman George Stinson said, "We continue to hope it will work as intended, and we remain hopful of seeing some benefits from it in the third and fourth quarters."

Concern over the Granite City Steel corporate owners' lack of relief is underscored by the fact that the government itself advocated the "tigger price" plan as an indirect remedy, rather than following its existing anti-dumping law in a direct manner.

A talk this month in Washington, D. C., to the Congressional steel caucus and to Congress' delegations from Arizona, California, Idaho, Nevada, Utah and Washington dealt with the problem as it affects West Coast steelmakers.

Mark T. Anthony, Kaiser Steel Corppresident and chief executive officer, asserted that 'trigger pricing isn't working for the western steel industry. Imports took 38 percent of our market in 1977, and they were rough than 50 percent in the first quarter of the steel of the steel of the steel
The bottom line is that we were supposed to be helped by the government's program. Yet, there is no question that import tonnage into the west in 1978 will be gester than it was in 1977, 'he asserted.
Percentages of the kind, being mentioned cause serious impact not only on steel firms but on the nation, which must not accept reliance on foreign producers for such a vital domestic and defense product.
Steelmaker's patience understandably is

defense product.
Steelmaker's patience understandably is wearing thin, justifying prompt attention by the Carter administration. Mr. Anthony's remarks included pertinent examples of trigger price procedural mistakes and a number of erroneous umptions in the system.

Announcing gym plans; part of museum funding promised

There was good news and bad news this reek about Governor James Thompson's vecto pen. Scheduling public news conferences for 2:30 this afternoon at the SIUE East St. Louis center and 4 o'clock today at the local university's main campus, "bubble local university main campus, "bubble by a spreyoring Southern Illinois University legislation aiding the satellite camer and also it giving a "green light" of the long-sought physical education building at SIUE.

But the governor has vetoed a $150,000 appropriation for comprehensive planning of a visitors' center and museum at Cahokia Mounds State Park, site of a major prehistoric Indian settlement. This major prehistoric Indian settlement. This would seem to be the wrong stand, but the Conservation Department is seeking to ease the pain — saying it will use current funds to launch the planning process for the center and museum. The remainder of the planning costs are likely to be included in the 1979-80 state budget; it was related.

Linda Wetton national champion in speaking competition

Hearty congratulations are in order for Linda L. Wetton, a member of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club who this week won the nationwide "speak off" competition at the BPW National Federations' 1978 convention in San Juan, Puerto Rico. Her talk was entitled "Freedom."

The Sacred Heart School seventh-eighth grades teacher, a 1970 guaduate of Granite City High School South, won the Illinois contest this spring and defeated 19 other state winners at the national meeting. Her achievement reflects high credit on herself, the local club and this community.

The audience at the Mississippi River Festival Friday evening got an unusual treat that is rarely seen at rock 'n roll concerts. Opening act Dudek, Finnigan and Krueger warmed up the crowd and got things rolling for Dave Mason, and his band. Then the audience got the triple treat. After a few songs by Dave Mason, Mike Finnigan and Jim Krueger returned to the stage to help with vocals on a song they had written and Mason had recorded. Les Dudek, with guitar in hand, also strolled back on stage. But the show wasn't over yet. Mason and band played many of his older songs as well as several selections from his newer albums before Dudek, Finnigan and Krueger returned to the stage to play along for not one but two encores to top off the night.
